Dear Professor Hennessy,

The appeal in my defamation lawsuit against Google was heard a couple of weeks ago. The Supreme Court Justices have ordered final legal submissions to be filed by 27 May 2016. Google will lose!

The trial started June 22nd and, as you know, I won - with no legal experience and no idea. Even your former legal representative seemed pleased that I won. Yet Google has appealed. You wont win and I will set a global precedent. Google has paid out about $3 million in legal fees to make one person go away-and failed!

It appears that you have changed tact in your efforts to decimate me from "she did it" to "she caused it". Unlike at the trial, I had lawyers. But after 3 days of yet again listening to Google assassinate my character in court I left early in a flood of tears on the third day, went home, got my dog and went to the park. By the way, my dog has been more than just a comfort during this battle. I was able to prove to the Appellate Court justices that your lawyers dumped their documents on me less than 48 hours before the start of the trial in an attempt to prejudice and railroad me, a self represented litigant. I found an email from one of your lawyers written on Saturday 20 June 2015 that said "Dr Duffy, I am outside your house with documents and there is a big dog in the front yard". That is really low tactics but unfortunately it is indicative of the lack of moral compass in Google. It is not business and it is not innovation in the name of advancing society. This is simply proof that Google is comprised of 21st century Robber Barons! Google is little better than information terrorists.

Yet my life is destroyed. I can never go back to the quiet research life I enjoyed before all this. I just wanted to live my life quietly and I would have never litigated if google had removed the links to the website Ripoff Report when I requested under penalty of perjury in 2009.

So here we are, six years later and total costs of about $3-4 million to Google. That money could have put a lot of gifted students through tertiary education rather than spent on lawyers to try and break me.

Google has destroyed my life and I am determined to make sure it does not happen to others in Australia and in other nations south of the equator. The Australian government seems reluctant to do something about reigning in Google (unlike in the EU) so I will! I may as well start an Australian/Asian 'right to be forgotten' because there is no going back to my old life.

It is beyond me how you people sleep at night. But more relevant is that I simply cannot understand why Google would stupidly think they could take away my rights (to earn a living, live free of abuse) and get away with it. The highest common law judicial decision against Google in the world is held by me, a self represented litigant. I beat all the legal muscle and antics designed to prejudice me that money can buy, alone, with no legal experience. I guess Google specialises in seeking out legal representation that is less knowledgeable of the law and more focused on less than ethical tactics. Any smart lawyer would have advised to settle by removal - that is all I wanted. But I guess Google doesn't have smart lawyers.

I know it is all about money and power for Google. I have no problem with money and power as long as it is used ethically. There is something really wrong with you people. I would rather have all my flaws and character defects than be like you. At least I sleep at night. You all should be really ashamed that you make money from decimating people, families and small businesses.

You put me through hell during the trial. Even your own medical expert testified to the impact on my health of Google's unethical defence. Google held back evidence, tried to twist evidence and lied in court. I pleaded with you to do something to make it stop. It is a pity that people like you, Professor Hennessy and Page and Brin and the lawyers have no soul. It would take 2 mins to remove the links to the defamatory content on Ripoff Report - not only about me but written by abusive partners hell bent on revenge who write that the women are whores, name the woman and her children, add photos and location details. You simply do not care. This is NOT freedom of speech it is abuse and it is so sad that.

I will win the appeal, I will start a right to be forgotten movement and, it seems that you people will continue to sleep at night. That is such a shame for the world and for you.
